

This proposal should be denied. There are many better choices for the proposed types of communications than the amateur bands.

Amateur bands are subject to enough interference as it is. Actually something should be done to provide protection to the amateur bands from the illegal operation that occurs on a daily basis.